'Prize boosted confidence'

My husband Johan was diagnosed with cancer in mid-2014, and I was feeling despondent and worn out. The worry and lack of sleep took its toll on my appearance, too. Then, in the June w&h, I saw a Dermaquest/Skin Renewal make-over competition, which Johan urged me to enter. A week before he passed away, I won R10 000 in products and treatments as a runner-up. The compassionate staff at Skin Renewal were so understanding, and their treatments left my skin glowing, restoring my self-esteem after a really tough period in my life.
