

COLD WEATHER SKIN CURES

Ah Winter, my old friend.... By the time you're over, I'll be sick of the sight of myself in frumpy fleece pajamas (and so will my husband), I will have slurped my way through industrial-sized vats of butternut soup and I will officially have ice-blocks for feet. What I will miss though, is the opportunity to experiment with skin treatments, for now, is the time to go forth and peel, laser, needle and exfoliate.

Read full article here: <http://bit.ly/IMBColdWeath>